- [ ] Check each Windows PC's version. Go to Settings > System > About and read the version and edition under Windows specifications.
- [ ] List every PC still on 24H2 Home or Pro. Include spare laptops and rarely used machines, which are the most likely to have missed updates.
- [ ] Run Windows Update on those PCs. Look for the offer to move to version 25H2 or 26H2, the versions Microsoft recommends.
- [ ] Remove old update pauses. If someone paused or deferred updates on a PC, lift it so the newer version can install.
- [ ] Investigate PCs that get no offer. Ask your IT provider whether a compatibility hold applies.
- [ ] Check any Windows 11 SE laptops. Confirm with the device supplier or Microsoft whether they still receive updates now that 24H2 has ended.
